

Quick Reference Guide – Access to JUYI screen

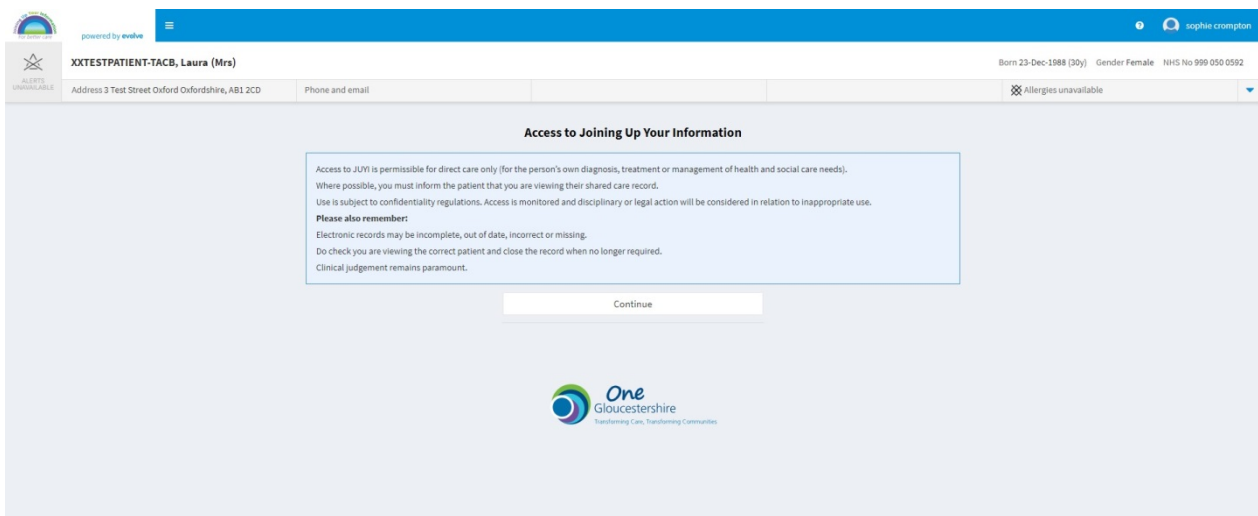

The Access to JUYI screen displays the patient's demographic details so you can check you are viewing the correct patient.

It also displays the key clinical safety and information governance messages to remember when using JUYI.

Access is for direct patient care only

The Caldicott Review defined direct patient care as a clinical, social or public health activity concerned with the prevention, investigation and treatment of illness and the alleviation of suffering of individuals. It includes supporting individuals' ability to function and improve their participation in life and society. It includes the assurance of safe, high-quality care and treatment through local audit, the management of untoward or adverse incidents, person satisfaction including measurement of outcomes undertaken by one or more registered health or social care professionals and their team with whom the individual has a legitimate relationship for their care.

Use is subject to the duty of confidentiality

The screenshot shows a web interface for 'Access to JUYI'. At the top, there is a blue header with 'powered by evolve' and a user profile for 'sophie.crompton'. Below the header, patient details for 'XXTESTPATIENT-TACB, Laura (Mrs)' are displayed, including her address, phone and email, and allergies. The main content area is titled 'Access to Joining Up Your Information' and contains a text box with the following information: 'Access to JUYI is permissible for direct care only (for the person's own diagnosis, treatment or management of health and social care needs). Where possible, you must inform the patient that you are viewing their shared care record. Use is subject to confidentiality regulations. Access is monitored and disciplinary or legal action will be considered in relation to inappropriate use. Please also remember: Electronic records may be incomplete, out of date, incorrect or missing. Do check you are viewing the correct patient and close the record when no longer required. Clinical judgement remains paramount.' A 'Continue' button is located below the text box. The One Gloucestershire logo is visible at the bottom of the page.

Access is monitored and disciplinary or legal action will be considered in relation to inappropriate use.

Please also remember:

- Electronic records may be incomplete, out of date, incorrect or missing.
- Do check you are viewing the correct patient and close the record when no longer required.
- Clinical judgement remains paramount.

The Access to JUYI screen has been reviewed and agreed by the JUYI Information Sharing and Access Control Reference Group, a sub-group of the Gloucestershire Information Governance Group, following the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and Data Protection Act 2018.
